Tomkins Memorial Concert and Lecture

The annual Tomkins Memorial Concert and Lecture will be held on October 14, 3 p.m. in Cole Hall. This year's lecturer is Max Delbrück, 1969 Nobel Laureate for his contributions to medicine and Albert Billings Ruddock Professor of Biology at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena. His lecture is entitled, "Mind from Matter?"

Pianist Jeff Kahane and violinist Dan Nobuhiko Smiley will perform selections by Stravinsky and Brahms.

The lecture and concert are named for Gordon M. Tomkins, who was one of America's most distinguished biochemists and a pioneer researcher in the field of hormone activity. He was also an accomplished musician who played both classics and jazz, and was UCSF professor of Biochemistry and vice-chairman of the Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics before his death in 1975.

YES, I'D LIKE TO SEE THEATRE ON CAMPUS

The Millberry Community Theatre (MCT) is looking for people interested in reactivating the group. In the past Millberry Community Theatre has presented major productions including "Blythe Spirit" and "Nightwatch" and one act plays presented at noon including the Spring '76 productions of "The Tiger" and "The Typist" by Murray Schisgal.

Any person (student, staff, friend) can become a member just by coming to the meetings, participating in the selection of works to be produced, and either being in the cast or promoting attendance for the performances. No previous theatrical or acting experience is necessary, only a desire to see theatre on campus.

The current Board of Directors, Millberry Union, encourages those wanting "specialty" theatre performances such as Women's Theatre or an Ethnic Theatre to also come forward with their ideas.

Members of the campus and neighborhood communities are invited to send a simple one-line response: YES, I'D LIKE TO SEE THEATRE ON CAMPUS. With this, give your name and campus or home address and send to: MCT Board of Directors, c/o Christine Raher, Langley Porter Institute, UCSF 94143.

After responding you will be invited to a general meeting in late September to set new directions for the Theatre. For further information contact Christine Raher at 681-8080, extension 482.
